

Snakes-N-Scales and Turtle Tales presents:

Rescue-A-Reptile

The animals used in our programs are all orphans who've been rescued from a variety of unfortunate situations. Some were unwanted or abused pets, others were confiscated by authorities. Still others were picked up in neighborhoods, along roads, from abandoned apartments or humane organizations. These animals are important to us and with your help can be given appropriate foods, habitat, medical care and a safe, secure home for the rest of their lives. For further information visit our website www.snakes-n-scales.com or call 973-248-9964.

Below are personal stories from animals rescued by Snakes-N-Scales. These are only a few of the hundreds of animals that we have rescued and are available for sponsorship.

DIZZY AMERICAN ALLIGATOR

We got this alligator because he escaped from the person who owned him! He ran outside, away from the house down to the highway! Remember alligators don't know to look both ways before crossing the street, or to cross at the green not in between or to find the crossing guard. So he just ran out into the highway and he got hit by a car! But he was lucky, the car didn't turn him into a road pizza!

SLASH BURMESE PYTHON

Snakes believe what they smell. If it doesn't look like what it smells like the snake will believe it's sense of smell and assume it's eyes are wrong. This caused the python to think that it's owner was a rabbit.....

GUMS YELLOW ANACONDA

Bill entered the pet store to look around. He was surprised to see a sign advertising a yellow anaconda. He went over to it and looked into the cage. He knew there was something wrong right away when he saw the yellow anaconda was half red! He also saw that there were pyramids of snake poop six inches high! Now anacondas don't come from Egypt.....

NESSIE AMERICAN ALLIGATOR

Imagine waking up on a beautiful April Saturday morning in NJ and going to sit by your pond to read. You begin but something moves and distracts you. You look over at it but you can't quite make it out, so you get up and walk over to it. You are rather surprised to find it's an alligator.....

CRASH BOX TURTLE

When Bill first saw this box turtle it had a 3 inch hole in its side, one foot crushed flat and a 2 inch piece of shell and flesh over its front leg was hanging from its body. Bill was pretty sure the turtle would die but he thought he'd give it a chance. It would take three years but.....

FRUIT ROLL-UP BLUE TONGUED SKINK

Like all animals this lizard was very cute when it was a 4 inch long baby but after 4 years it had become a foot long adult. And though certainly not an ugly animal it wasn't so cute anymore. Cleaning and feeding it every two days certainly can cut into your Little League schedule.....

PERTH AMERICAN ALLIGATOR

Police have a tough job. They have to deal with a lot of unpleasant people and very difficult situations but they know that's what their job is all about. So they know they are having a really weird day when an alligator goes running passed them down Main St.....

FROSTY SAVANNAH MONITOR

All monitors are hot climate lizards and don't live anywhere near snow. So why did we name this guy "Frosty?" Well, unfortunately his owners either didn't know he couldn't take the cold or didn't care much...

PARALLEL LEOPARD TORTOISE

This tortoise was brought to Bill because its owner couldn't keep it the bathtub anymore, was concerned about the cost of the bananas she was feeding it and because it couldn't walk anymore. Tortoises shouldn't be fed bananas nor kept in bathtubs and if they can't walk then things have gotten very bad indeed.....
